

FOUR MEN ARE DEAD IN SOO LINE WRECK

LIMITED TRAIN RUNNING INTO OPEN SWITCH PLUNGED FROM TRACK NEAR FREMONT THIS MORNING.

IS DELIBERATE ACTION

Officials of Road Believe Switch Was Opened Purposely—Several Were Injured—Steel Coaches Wrecked.

Fremont, Wis., Sept. 5.—Four men are reported dead and more than forty hurt, a number seriously, as the result of a train wreck, a limited passenger on the Soo line, running into an open switch one mile south of here early today.

Wreck Is Complete. Among the dead are Engineer Kuester of Fond du Lac, two unidentified men, believed to be tramps, and a passenger.

The train, made up of steel coaches and sleepers, is a complete wreck. The engine, with wrecked baggage and mail cars, lies in a field more than two hundred feet from the right of way. Two sleepers remained on the track.

The Dead and Injured. The dead are: August Kuester, engineer, North Fond du Lac; F. Fortune, Detroit, both legs broken, one amputated at the hospital, and will die. Fortune is a tramp, and two unidentified men are also thought to be tramps.

The injured: Mrs. M. Garvey, 311 Second avenue, Duluth, injuries bad but not serious; Harneson, first name unknown, Fremont, North Fond du Lac, badly shaken up, not seriously injured.

Hint at Wrackers. The Soo officials today gave out the opinion that the switch was opened deliberately to wreck the train as a train passed over the same point but a few minutes before the limited which was wrecked.

LEG WAS BROKEN IN AN ACCIDENT TODAY

Walter Nehls of La Prairie Injured About Two O'clock This Morning When Train Struck His Rig.

Walter Nehls, a young man residing in the town of La Prairie, had both legs in his right leg broken above the ankle and sustained other injuries in an accident about a quarter of two o'clock this morning, when freight train No. 145 on the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad struck the rig in which he was riding at the crossing two miles and a half east of the city near the Calver farm. Nehls was returning from the Labor Day dance and was driving along at a fairly good rate of speed. Mistaking the headlight on the engine for a switch light, he started to cross the tracks ahead of the train. He realized his mistake and struck the horse with the whip just as the buggy was on the track, but the train struck the rig before he was across. The buggy was entirely demolished and the horse escaped injury and returned home, with only a part of the harness left on him. It was found in the yard this morning by Nehls' mother, which was the first knowledge she had of the accident. Nehls was picked up by the train crew and wrapped in a horse blanket the unfortunate young man had around him when the accident occurred. The injured man was brought to this city and placed in the roundhouse until the arrival of the ambulance to take him to the hospital. Dr. Pomeroy attended the man and made him as comfortable as possible and the bones of the leg were set this morning. The accident was a most unfortunate one for Nehls and it is a marvel that he escaped with his life.

STREET CAR STRUCK RIG; WOMAN INJURED

Mrs. Ellen Joyce of Johnstown Badly Bruised And Shaken Up In Accident on West Milwaukee Street This Noon.

Mrs. Ellen Joyce of the town of Johnstown was badly bruised about the head, right shoulder, arm, and right side when she was riding on the rig in which she was sitting as the result of a collision with a street car at the corner of West Milwaukee and High streets about half past twelve o'clock this afternoon. The buggy and harness were damaged but the horse was not hurt badly.

Mrs. Joyce was driving down High street in a single rig when the accident occurred. The car, it is said, was traveling up Milwaukee street at a rapid speed. The shock of the collision knocked the horse down and he tipped the buggy over, throwing Mrs. Joyce quite forcibly onto the pavement. She was quite badly bruised and shaken up and people on the streets helped her to her feet. She was assisted to the home of a friend by John P. Sweeney and Dr. Eddien in his automobile.

Uncle Sam Disposes of Junk. Washington, D. C., Sept. 5.—At the offices of the National Canal Commission bids were opened today for the purchase of more than 100,000 tons of junk which Uncle Sam has for sale. The junk includes abandoned locomotives, dredges, dump cars, machinery and tools, the lot comprising the last remnants of the millions of dollars' worth of equipment sent to the Panama canal by the French engineers years ago.

CUMMINS DECLARES TAFT SHOULD NOT BE RE-NOMINATED

In Signed Statement Today Iowa Senator Gives Reason Why Taft Should Not Again Be President.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Des Moines, Ia., Sept. 5.—Asserting he entertains none but the most friendly personal feeling for President Taft, but the nation's chief executive doesn't take a "progressive view," Senator Cummins, in a signed statement today sets out his reasons why he thinks Taft shouldn't be nominated.

Among other things Cummins points to Taft's position on the Canadian reciprocity. Cummins considers that measure "the most unfortunate act of legislation passed within the period of the present administration." Senator Cummins avers that on all vital things the allies and supporters of Taft have been reactionaries and stand pat in the senate and house. He says if the republican party believes in perpetuating this leadership it cannot do better than to nominate Taft.

Senator Cummins says he doesn't believe in it and is therefore hoping for the nomination of a progressive republican.

Clapp Speaks. San Francisco, Sept. 5.—President Taft was denounced by Senator Clapp of Minnesota in a banquet speech here last night. The direct cause of the attack was Taft's insistence of the elimination of the recall of judiciary from the Arizona constitution.

ROCK COUNTY FAIR WAS OPENED TODAY

BIG EXHIBITION AT EVANSVILLE OPENED WITH RECORD-BREAKING ATTENDANCE.

FAIR BEST EVER HELD

Exhibits in All Departments Are Largest in History of Fair and Buildings Are Not Large Enough for Entries in Stock Departments.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Evansville, Wis., Sept. 5.—With one of the biggest crowds on record in attendance, the Rock county fair, lasting through Friday, was officially opened today at the fair grounds here. Never before in the history of the fair have so many people attended the fair in this city.

From all parts of the surrounding country farmers and their families have poured into the city and the nearby towns and cities are well represented here. A large delegation is present from Janesville and the streets are crowded with the people going to and from the fair.

In point of exhibits the fair this year is the best ever held here. All exhibits are crowded with entries and it has been necessary to postpone the show of horses until tomorrow on account of the lack of stalls and stable room. In the cattle department alone there are two hundred entries and the task of the judges in picking the finest animals will be a most difficult one.

In the other departments the exhibits are equally large in size and almost every known variety of fruits, vegetables and other products of the farm are on exhibition, exceeding in size those of previous years.

The feature of this afternoon's entertainment is the races on the track at the grounds and the list of entries includes some of the fastest animals in the state. Some good track records are looked for this afternoon.

ONLY FOUR DRUNKS ARRAIGNED TODAY

Labor Day Crowds Were Quite Peaceable and Few Required Attention of the Police.

After attempting to "clean out" a saloon where he had been drinking, Howard Crubagh, a stalwart cement worker was finally lodged in jail and appeared in court this morning with both eyes blackened. Crubagh was arraigned for drunkenness and made arrangements to pay a fine of two dollars and costs.

Crubagh, it is said, was remonstrated with when he became boisterous in the saloon and flouted the proprietor when the latter tried to quiet the intoxicated man. Officers were sent for and Officer E. J. Hallen, who is shorter in stature than Crubagh, succeeded in doing what the proprietor had attempted, throwing the man out of the saloon. Crubagh, it is alleged, started to "mix it" with the policeman but found the officer a more difficult proposition than he had encountered previously. Two blackened eyes was the result of his encounter with Hallen. Hallen started with his prisoner for the city lock-up but was forced to send for help as Crubagh.

Ivan Peterson in eighteen-year-old Rockford youth, went to jail for five days in default of payment of a fine of two dollars and costs. Peterson visited saloons in Rockford and flouted on his way to Janesville. It is said, "and" over the flouting, Crubagh on a "jag" yesterday. An attempt was made to send him back to the Forest City but passage was refused him by the conductor of one of the cars and Peterson was taken to the police station.

Joe Danvers who was arraigned about a month ago, was another who fell into the toils of the police yesterday for drunkenness and it cost him $5 and costs or $6 to get out again. Frank Livingston paid a fine of $2 and costs for the same offense.

Outside of the trouble caused by the drunks yesterday was a quiet day for the police and the officers had but little trouble in dealing with the crowds about town.

SCHOOLS OPEN WITH LARGE ATTENDANCE

Enrollment Is Unusually Heavy Throughout the City for the First Day of Year.

With but little change in the total attendance at the high school over that of last year and the reports from other schools in the city reporting about the same, the school year for Janesville opened this morning. The lists are not yet complete but Clerk Burroughs of the board of education stated this noon it was unusually large for the first day of the year. More pupils will be enrolled tomorrow and next day and it is expected the total will be even greater than last year.

FINE RACE PROGRAM
DREW LARGE CROWD
AT PARK YESTERDAY

NEARLY FOUR THOUSAND PEOPLE ATTENDED LABOR DAY CELEBRATION AT DRIVING PARK.

A VARIETY OF EVENTS

Motorcycle, Horse and Automobile Speed Events Combined to Make Affair of Unusual Interest—Fast Auto Races.

Nearly four thousand people witnessed the excellent program of races given at the Labor Day celebration at the grounds of the Janesville Park association yesterday afternoon. The affair was in charge of the Carpenters' and Joiners' Union with a good number of entries in each race and an enthusiastic crowd the celebration proved to be one of the most successful affairs of the kind which has been in Janesville for some time past.

The encouragement to such events which was accorded by the large attendance yesterday will inspire confidence for larger and better racing attractions in the future. In fact as a direct result of the success of the affair yesterday it is already planned to hold an automobile race as soon as the fall in the state are over.

Much credit is due to H. H. McDaniels, manager of the course, in the promptness and dispatch in which the races were run off in spite of the crowds which insisted at times in blocking the track. He had charge of the entries in the motorcycle races and had secured some first class races, among them being the famous Paulsen team of Rockford.

Motorcycle Races.

The entertainment opened with a ball game between the Parkers and an All Star aggregation which proved to be rather uninteresting as compared with the races. The Parkers rather ran away from their opponents and piled up a total of 17 tallies against 6 to the credit of the All Star team.

Motorcycle races were scheduled first and the first of these was the ten-mile private owner 30 to 50 class. All the entries in this race were from Rockford, members of the Paulsen team. The entries were: C. Swanson, G. Peterson, T. Day, H. Linder, J. Schaber. At the start Swanson took the lead followed closely by E. Schmidt and T. Day. Schaber was passed in the first lap by Day who steadily maintained second place throughout the race. At the end of the third lap Schaber was forced to retire owing to trouble with his machine. The results were: C. Swanson, first, time 11:12 1/2; T. Day, second, time 11:54; C. Timmons, third, time 12:15.

Fast Five Mile.

Motorcycle race number two was the five-mile private owner 30 to 50 class. Entries were: Timmons, Beloit, Ind.; Fiske, Beloit, Ind.; Fiske, Rockford, Flying Morkie. In this race Fiske was given a 2-second handicap. Fiske took the lead and at the end of the first mile was followed by Fiske, Timmons following. They maintained this position until the last mile when Timmons dropped out. Fiske and Fiske raced neck and neck and on the last stretch Fiske was slightly ahead. At the last stretch the two racers came tearing at a terrific speed, Fiske passing the tape first at time of 6:18 1/2 and Fiske second at 6:18 3/5. This race was protested by Fiske.

The final event in this section of the races was a three-mile specialty race for 30 to 50 class. Entries were: Meyers, C. Timmons, H. Linder, F. Meyer, C. Timmons, Timmons, F. Schaber, first, time 4:11; Meyers, second, time 4:11; Meyers, third, time 4:11; Meyers, fourth, time 4:11; Meyers, fifth, time 4:11; Meyers, sixth, time 4:11; Meyers, seventh, time 4:11; Meyers, eighth, time 4:11; ## SUGAR BEETS.

Rock county is in the midst of the sugar beet culture both of the middle northwest. The Rock County Sugar company buys the product from the farmers in this vicinity, paying a large sum of money each year aside from giving labor to several hundred men almost the entire year round. In this connection it is interesting to note what an exchange has to say about the secondary results of sugar beet culture.

Claims made by Secretary Wilson of the department of agriculture, and by Truman G. Palmer, secretary of the United States Beet Sugar industry, with regard to the present achievements and future possibilities of sugar beet culture in this country, seem to be fully borne out by the experience of foreign lands. Notwithstanding that beet sugar production in the United States has grown from 1,000 tons to 500,000 tons within twenty-five years, this record has been beaten abroad. Last year Germany alone produced over 2,000,000 tons, and after cutting for the home demand was able to export 550,000 tons. It is not in the sugar beet alone that Germany or any other nation engaged in its cultivation finds the greatest source of profit.

Over a hundred years ago a commission appointed by the first Napoleon to inquire into the beet sugar industry, then undertaken by Germany in a small way, discovered that by rotating a crop of sugar beets with ordinary crops, planting the sugar beets once in four years, the yield of the other crops might be doubled or even quadrupled. The French government, at the instance of Bonaparte, granted a subsidy of £1,000,000 to those engaging in beet sugar milling, and by 1813 France was cultivating 90,000 acres of beets and producing sugar from the crop in 345 mills. The fall of the empire and the emperor stopped all state aid and practically crushed the industry in France for the time being. It was not restored until the time of the third Napoleon, and it is remarkable that in 1870 in Germany dates from the year in which that ruler lost his throne.

"Now Germany not only leads the world in the production of the sugar beet, but related to this is the astonishing fact that the other crops of the fatherland had year reached a valuation of $900,000,000 in excess of similar crops produced from similar acreage in this country. The conclusion is obvious. Germany's ability to obtain greater results from the acre of soil than is obtained by the American farmer is recognized, but it is doubtful if the extent to which the sugar beet contributes to this result is fully appreciated.

"Sugar beets are grown in sixteen of the states of this country. It is held that if American farmers diversified their wheat, oats, barley, rye and potatoes every four years with a sowing of beets they would produce as great a tonnage of beet sugar as Germany and be enriched by $1,000,000,000 a year. Moreover, sugar beet cultivation makes careful farming, and careful farming is a prime and recognized need of this country."

Heart to Heart Talks.

By EDWIN A. NYE.

IN THE GREAT BEYOND.

Tell you a story?
Yes, it will be a true story out of our common life, and there shall be a real heroine.

Grace Bradbury, a sweet girl of Denver, aged twenty, was engaged to marry her true love, a worthy young man. She had her dream.

A little cottage with vines and flowers, true love and a husband, children, and—but who can enter the dreaming soul of a pure maiden who is much in love with life and love?

She was very happy.
Often she tenderly smiled as she wrought embroidery and dainty and certain and the things that women treasure against the wedding day.

From a modest salary she gave all the money she could spare to buy pretty things for the future home.

Then one day came a message.
Her brother, at Grady, Mo., was very low with tuberculosis. She sent for her lover and told him she must go. "But you may contract the disease, dear," he said. "He is my brother," replied the girl.

Into you watched a loved one slowly go beyond your power to hold him back? Day by day the pallor grows on the loved cheeks; day by day the dear eyes are more staring. And the awful cough that racks the frail body tears your heartstrings.
Grace Bradbury stayed until the end. When she returned to Denver the worn cheeks showed, alas, the preliminary scourges. The hacking cough was unrelenting.

But—
Like most victims of the insidious disease, she believed until the very last that she would be better "tomorrow." And she smiled the tender smile and worked, when she was able, at the needle and the mite and dreamed of the little home.

A short time after she returned to Colorado Grace Bradbury died of "quick consumption."
On the last day her lover held her hand and leaned over and said, "It will come true in the great beyond, dear." And somewhere out from the eternal silence with tender grace came back the answer, "It will."

And it will!
The dreams of Grace Bradbury MUST come true, else our God is dead. Such devoted sacrifice must somehow be rewarded—and somehow it must be rewarded—
"In the great beyond."

Olive Tree 400 Years Old.
There are in Syria some olive trees which are known to be more than 400 years old. Not only are they still in a flourishing condition, but they are likely to bear fruit for a century or two longer.

UNCLE WALT
THE POET PHILOSOPHER

(Copyright, 1909, by George Matthew Adams.)
By WALT MASON.

I went into a hardware store to buy a couple of nails. The clerk I dealt with was a bore, who told me dreary tales. He wore a large elastic smile that split his face in two. THE STORE two; his jaw was going at the while and through, I said: "Cut out these verbal gales. Let all this talk be thinned; let, when a patron comes for nails, you only hand him said!" I went into the drugstore's bar, to buy some pecked smoke; a languid salesman met me there, and said: "Say, here's a joke!" and then he slammed me on the back, and leaned against my bust, and quoted from some rhyming, a joke all red with rust. And then I smote him with a chair and knocked him through the floor, determined as I felt that fair, to go there never more. Oh, when will buoyant women learn to give their jaws a rest, and know that customers don't yearn for gaily and ancient jest? Ah, how I love the quiet clerk, who sells me soap and soap, and leans his mind upon his work, and sidesteps almanacs!

Her Favorite Worm.
Dorothy came running up the walk one morning her baby hand extended and on the tiny palm a huge brown and black caterpillar. "Just look what I've found, Mrs. H—," she exclaimed, joyously. "I never ever looked for it, but this is my favorite worm!"

CURIOUS BITS OF HISTORY

By A. W. MACY.

A CONSCIENTIOUS ADMIRAL.

During the Boxer rebellion in China the warships of eight allied nations, England, France, Germany, Italy, Austria, Russia, Japan and the United States, were lying at the mouth of the Pei-Ho river, leading to Peking. On the banks of the river, and guarding its entrance, were the Taku forts, garrisoned by Chinese soldiers. At a critical juncture of the rebellion seven of the admirals united in a demand for the evacuation or surrender of the forts, the demand being accompanied by a threat to fire on them unless it was immediately complied with. But Rear Admiral Kempff, in command of the American squadron, refused to join in the demand, on the ground that he was not authorized to initiate any act of war with a nation with which his country was at peace. His instructions, he claimed, did not permit him to commit an overt act of war. The other commanders argued and insisted, but he steadfastly refused. It is a part of an admiral's business to fight, and it was no doubt a great temptation to join in the bombardment. Had he yielded, he probably would have been sustained by public opinion at home. But he had the moral courage to stand by his conception of his duty under his instructions.

Who May Be Called Musical?
It is quite possible for a person to be musical without being either a singer or a player. The possession of a musical ear and musical taste, i.e., the perception of beauty in music, would entitle him to being considered musical, but in most cases such a person would study an instrument of some kind. If he had not even a musical ear, but only a love of music, the appellation would hardly be correct.

SOCIETY ENJOYS THE GOLF CLUB CIRCUS

EXCELLENT SHOWS GIVEN AT COUNTRY CLUB MONDAY AFTERNOON AND EVENING.

RAIN WAS NO BARRIER

When Storm Broke in the Evening Guests Crowded Club House for Special Concert.

Janesville society members sported themselves at the St. Louis Golf club Monday afternoon and evening and one of the most enjoyable of the amateur performances that have become a yearly feature of the club was enjoyed by hundreds of members guests from out of the city and visitors.

To describe the entire performance of each individual show would fill columns, for what amateur production was not side-splitting. The tents had been arranged in true circus style. With side-shows leading up to the "main top" which, by the way, had no top at all and was merely a ring and raised platform.

The first show that the visitor discovered was the wonderful eight legged horse. It was a genuine feature and a sure enough freak. Charles Tallman was speller and ticket seller and the little beast with his eight legs was cared for by his owner, Charles Harnack of the town of Center. Another real true side-show feature was the wonderful pair of imaginary calves. Funny bits of animals with but three legs, which looked about like the real kangaroos. James Harnack had charge of this exhibit and H. M. Watts was speller and ticket seller.

It would not be a true circus if they did not have a shell game artist, or some gambling device for the "rubber" to lose their money and this feature was attended to by Madeline and Kenneth Jeffries who fooled the strangers by means of a roulette wheel and an impossible barrel to throw a baseball into. They proved to be adepts at the art and the "machine" won for the house every time.

One of the stellar side-show attractions was the Moving Picture illustrated song shows. Allen P. Lovejoy garbed as Buffalo Bill, was the "exhibitor" of the wonders to be seen in the "side show" where Miss Lovejoy as "Proprietress" had arranged the most clever scenes on a raised stage, with the accompaniment for the scenes depicted. It was really one of the big hits of the afternoon.

The actors in this tent were Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Lovejoy, Miss Ida Green, Mrs. Marcellus, Fred and Howard Green, Stanley Woodruff, with Chas. Tipton as ticket taker, Mr. Marcellus as stage manager and Miss Helen Jeffries as singer. The farces were clever and well staged showing much care and preparation.

Both before and after going into the "main top" you had to visit the Pazzo Sisters which was conducted by that past master in the art of the Pazzo Sisters, George M. McKee. Pitted in Oriental style, with graceful pillars and dainty maidens garbed in the costumes of the land of the harem, this proved to be a most enjoyable place to stop. Art, Bauman, Erickson and Carey furnished the inspiring "Tum, tum, tum" of the Oriental dances and Orville Sutherland Alkhusian danced with an abandon that could not be equalled on a real stage.

The Pazzo Sisters, Misses Margaret Daly, Hester Birch, Katherine Jeffries Margaret Allen, Sarah Garbutt, Louise McKee and Josephine McKee of Chicago, Miss Emma Richardson, Mrs. Granger, Miss Lucille Hyde, Mrs. William Huger and Mrs. E. H. Peterson were here.

Miss Elizabeth Scheller handled the ticket taking. George McKee the manager, director and one of the main features. Later in the evening Harold Hall of Chicago, gave a graceful interpretation of the Salome dance at the club house in connection with the belated performance.

Before going into the "main top," however, you were forced to buy a rose from the charming flower girl, Miss Annette Whiting a host of peanuts, the real double jointed kind, from Miss Lila Whiting, a glass of sparkling orangeade from Mrs. A. P. Lovejoy, Candy from Miss Louise Morrill, Mrs. Burns Howard was tender and Miss Charlotte Mowat presided over the pop corn stand at the booth for which Henry Carpenter was porter and "bouncer."

But now you are at the Thuringia. But show itself. You bought your tickets from Dave Watt, the lightning ticket seller, whose ticket wagon, on an ordinary day, a milk wagon, but today gaily decorated and lighted with electric lights, did excellent service for the big show. Mr. McKee was the general speller and ticket taker pocketing the pasteboards—no "comps" issued, free list suspended—for the proprietors Mrs. Frank Blodgett and Mrs. Harry Carter.

Charles Gage was the gentlemanly ring master with E. H. Peterson as his double. Misses Helen Jeffries and Ethel Roberts, as riders of famous "High School" horses, did some clever riding around the saw dust ring, but before they began came the grand parade. Of course there were clowns, S. M. Glover and M. O. Mount proved most clever in this.

There were two elephants, one with F. S. Sheldon as the front legs and George E. King as the following quarter. Al Schaller took the initial steps for the other with E. H. Peterson "double" in the back. The rear legs were the walkers. Harry McNamara and Geo. Buchholz manipulated the giraffe successfully. Mr. McKee left the front door long enough to act as Lulu the beautiful Gipsy, and Bob Carter and Rhianar Sloan were the bewitching organ grinder and hairy monkey. Cal Broadgett appeared in a grotesque costume and Indian moccasins and warriors were smaller members of the club who swarmed everywhere with Sidney Blakes as a clown on the donkey.

Aside from the elephant feats, wonderful dances and so forth, the riding of the Misses Jeffries and Roberts, the riding of "Togo" and her wonderful pony "Togo" proved a drawing card. Pudge did wonderful tricks, ending his share of the performance by climbing a ladder onto Togo's back and trotting gravely around the ring like a veteran.

One real genuine circus act was the slack wire work of the Tumbler brothers, William MacDonald and Sterling Campbell with little John Granko in their clever tumbling and balancing act. It was well worth seeing in any show and well executed.

Of course no show is perfect without a concert and Misses Josephine Tread, Marjorie Blodgett, Gladys Reed, Agnes Gruebel and Louise Merrill proved most acceptable chorus girls. Carter and Mendez orchestra furnished the musical inspiration. The clever work of Buffalo Bill, Allen P. Lovejoy, and darling, dainty and petite Annie "Onkey," E. J. Harnack, must not be forgotten. Buffalo Bill hit everything including a soda cracker held by Miss Onkey and in return permitted Miss Onkey to shoot the bullet which he caught with his teeth and dropped gracefully into a tin pan. It was a clever farce, well taken.

One feature, not on the regular program, was the arrival of Uncle St. Aunt Samantha and Mrs. Perkins in a dilapidated surrey. For a few minutes Uncle St. had them all "going" until it was discovered to be Dr. C. G. Dwight of Madison, a former member of the club, his wife and Mrs. Frank Blodgett as his Perkins. Their make-up was clever and they proved to be good actors bringing all sorts of laughs from the happy audience.

Two performances had been given and Miss Blanche Sweeney, Mrs. E. V. Whitton, Jr. and Miss Hazel Spencer were preparing for the country dance when the rain came. There was a scurry for the club house and the men's dressing room looked like pandemonium let loose, filled with franks, chorons men getting on their grease paint and Oriental dancers, monkeys and bears and all sorts of queer creations. However, matters were soon straightened out and an extra performance, in which all took part, was held in the club house the evening closing with a dance after all.

Much credit is due the committee that had charge of the affair, Mrs. Blodgett and Mrs. Carter were the main inspirations for the circus and George M. McKee for his show, Miss Lovejoy, Miss Whitton, each had their part to play and it was a huge success financially and otherwise.

ADJOURNED COUNCIL TO MEET TONIGHT

Only Mayor and City Clerk Were Present Last Night and Meeting Was Adjourned to Tonight.

None of the aldermen were present at the meeting of the common council set for last night, and the mayor and city clerk were the only officials present. As it was a legal holiday the meeting was adjourned to tonight at eight o'clock. The prospects are that the meeting will be short and whatever business is to be transacted will be handled speedily. The plans and specifications for the improvement of North Academy street from West Milwaukee streets to the Northwestern tracks have been completed and those will be presented for approval. The contract between the city and Mory contract for the care of emergency cases will probably be approved, the signatures of the hospital authorities having been secured. Other matters of routine business, the reports of the board of education and municipal court for the month of August will be disposed of.

SEEK INFORMATION AS TO RELATIVES OF DEAD MAN.

Detroit Authorities Offer Reward for Information of Whereabouts of Beneficiaries to Estate.

Railroad men will be interested in and may be able to furnish the information sought by Bernard Quinn of Detroit, Mich., administrator of the estate of the late Lieutenant Henry Walpole of the Detroit police department. A circular has been sent out by the superintendent of police of Detroit advertising a reward of twenty-five dollars for information as to the whereabouts of John and Patrick Walpole both of whom are beneficiaries to the estate of the deceased. "Jack" Walpole is employed as a railroad switchman and "Pat" is a trainman and it is supposed that both are in the west.

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON.

YES, we are going to get out somewhere at least twice a week. Sometimes we'll go calling, and sometimes we'll go to church or to a concert or lecture or to the theatre. But wherever we go, we're surely going somewhere together at least twice a week, and maybe more. We made that our wedding anniversary resolution. You know we had been married seven years last Wednesday.

The lady who announced that determination, is one of the brightest little women in our neighborhood. She has two children to whom she is devoted. One is four, and the other six years old.

"You see," she went on in explanation, "Harry and I got to thinking things over the other night, and we just decided that we had slipped into a rut. When the children were little babies, of course we couldn't go out very much. But now that they are older and we have a very trustworthy maid, there really isn't any reason on earth why we shouldn't go out more and yet we are so in the habit of staying in that I don't believe we go out anywhere together once in two weeks. Harry plays with the children until they go to bed, and then reads the newspapers, and the magazines, and I read or sew, and half the time we go to bed at nine or half past.

"On our anniversary, some friends of ours whom we visited on our honeymoon, invited us to go to dinner and the theatre with them and we did enjoy it so much that when we got home we sat down and talked it all over and we made up our minds that we had gotten into a rut, and we ought to get out of it.

"We think we owe it both to ourselves and the children to keep alive and young and in touch with things, and we can't do that if we sit down and stare at a book or each other every night.

"Harry works hard, but not so hard that he needs to drop into a chair and doze or read all the evening, and he says he felt better and more alive the day after our little 'spree' than he had for weeks.

"So we're just going to drive ourselves out. We're going to look up some of the friends we lost sight of when we were so tied down by the babies, and we're going to take some part in our church life, and we're just going to get out of this married folks rut.

"I know it may come a little hard at first—we've vegetated so long, but I'm sure we'll enjoy ourselves and everything else better, once we get thoroughly waked up, and I think, too, that when our children get old enough to want to be friends with us, we'll be better able to be friends with them than if they kept on vegetating the way we are."

Does the lady's resolution appeal to you?

I must say that it does to me, and that I know more than one married couple who would benefit both themselves and future generations, by making—and keeping—a similar one.

The KITCHEN CABINET

IF TODAY is dark and stormy, well, tomorrow may be fair. If we have no earthly dwelling, there are mansions "over there." And we know what God plans for us, our own plans, too, would be. Could we but see the future as clearly as can be.

COMPANY DISHES.

When company comes we feel the desire to give them the very best our table can afford. The following are a few ideas that may be used. The drink with small cakes served to the caller on a warm day is very refreshing.

Lemon Flizz.—Grate the yellow rind from three lemons, squeeze the juice from six, and pour over two quarts of boiling water; stir in half a pound of sugar and cover. When lukewarm add half a yeast cake dissolved in a cup of warm water; cover and let stand over night. In the morning, bottle and tie down the corks. Put in a cool place for a day or two when it will be ready to use.

Chicago Salad.—Take large, very ripe pears, cut in halves and core (canned pears may be used); fill the cavity made where the cores were removed with chopped celery and walnut meats mixed with mayonnaise. Arrange around the salad bowl and fill the center with cream cheese or cottage cheese, made rich with cream, put through the ricer.

Normandy Salad.—Chop and mix together three cucumbers, three hard-boiled eggs, one cup of olives, three-fourths of a cup of nutmeats, and serve in lettuce nests with mayonnaise.

Krimmel Torte.—Put a half pound each of dates, nuts, and a fourth of a pound of figs with three tablespoons of bread crumbs through a meat chopper. Mix well and fold in the mixture into the whites of six eggs beaten stiff. Bake in a moderate oven slowly, either in a loaf or layer tin. If in layers, put together with whipped cream, and you have a cake fit for a king.

Dried peaches and apricots mixed make a delicious dessert. Stew under, and put through a sieve. Add cream and freeze.

Nellie Maxwell.

Hint to Housewives.
A helpful hint to housekeepers, from the Manhattan (Kan.) Mercury: "Charlemagne is said to have had a tabcloth made of asbestos and used to clean it by throwing it into the fire to consume the dirt. The best asbestos has a fine silky fiber and can be spun in a thread that runs as high as 225 yards to the ounce. Why not buy asbestos clothing and do away with family washing?"

Cover for Bathing.
Many housekeepers spend a lot of time cleaning their bathtubs. Here is a way to make the work less strenuous: Cut a piece of unbleached muslin the size of the tub and round off the edges to fit, a bias facer is then stitched round the cover, and through this a piece of tape is run. When the tub is not in use the cover is put on and tape drawn tightly under the edge. It is easy enough to wash, and spares an incredible lot of wear and tear on bathtub.

Material in Battleship.
In a 14,000-ton battleship there are about 13,200 tons of steel, 400 tons of copper, 140 tons of nickel, 140 tons of lead and ten tons of tin.

WAYS OF TREATING CONSTIPATION.

Ninety per cent, probably, of all sickness comes from constipation—"more than that," says a practitioner of more than 30 years' experience, "when you consider that, excepting injuries, there can be no disease without impure blood and with constipation there can be no pure blood. The ordinary superficial treatment with drugs or by lavatory injection is only temporary in its effect, and usually leaves the condition worse. Neglect of regularity, too much concentrated food, bad mental conditions, lack of exercise, insufficient water drinking, and improper mixing of foods, are the essential contributing causes. The only scientific cure consists in removing the cause. The enema should be used only as an emergency measure, being unnatural; a tablespoonful of olive oil morning and evening is a harmless and efficient aid. A teaspoonful of clean, pulverized bran with the meal is beneficial in most cases. The mechanical vibrator is often helpful."

Thought for Today

MRS. ROBERT M. LAVOLLETTE.

MAETERLINCK has recently said, "It is probable that the universe is seeking and finding itself every day, that it has not become entirely conscious, and does not yet know what it wants." Not your life and mine alone, but the life of this earth and the solar system to which it belongs, but all the life of all the infinite universe is a great extending experiment of which our consciousness here is but a part. No more asking why. We cannot know. The infinite, whence we come, to which we return, does not know, "is still evolving, not yet established," and is striving, ever striving, even as we strive, and it were not astonishing if human thought and effort were seconding the chances of the universe to arrive at the best state, the supreme wisdom.

Professor William James' last word in the book published since his death was not unlike this thought of Maeterlinck's. He conceives the universe of plural powers and yet undivided. Logically, he says, it will succeed in proportion as more of these powers work for its success. If none work it will fail. If each does his best it will succeed. Its destiny hangs on it. But you and I must trust those powers to do their best, and at any rate, do OUR best in spite of the IP, and so contribute to the success of the universe.

Thus do the latest and greatest philosophers make our lives fit into the great plan and hold out the inducement that no good fight is vain, no effort is lost; that the smallest triumph weighs in the infinite balance. No new doctrine, no startling deduction, you say. Perhaps not, but is it not helpful and satisfying and comforting that philosophy, now and old, religion, science, and human experience blend in one harmonious, inspiring conclusion.

HEART AND HOME TALKS

BY BARBARA BOYD

Using the Ability You Have.

I don't think that she is so much smarter than other girls," said a business woman speaking to some friends of a girl who was filling a very good position. "But she uses the ability she has, every drop of it."

Many another girl is holding a fine position, not because of unusual ability, but because she won't afraid to tackle the job and to do her very best to fill it. Most new work looks big to the one facing it. But if many grow faint-hearted, say they can't do it, and turn away. But if they would hold tight to their courage, and resolutely take up the work, they would find it breaking up into tasks of hours and days that could be accomplished. One can only do so much at a time, and the big disintegrates into the little. And there are always those who will help the willing and ambitious worker.

A girl was offered a position in the advertising department of a large store. She was quite fitted to do the work. She was a clever writer, and she had taken a course in advertisement writing, so that she was really better equipped than many who take up this work. She came for a few days before the incumbent of the office left, in order that her predecessor might give her a few points. But she was appalled at the magnitude of the work expected of her. For two days she looked on in a daze at the work being done. Then she declared she couldn't do it, threw over the offer and quit. She could have done the work splendidly. But she simply failed to put in the test the ability she had.

Another girl who had been a bookkeeper and stenographer was thrown, by the changes of business, into an advertising department of a store, to do some clerical work. She hadn't half of the natural ability to write of this other girl. But today, she is the firm's leading woman advertisement writer at a salary of fifty dollars a week. As openings came to her, she courageously took them, and she used every scrap of ability she had to fill them. And her powers developed with use.

No work is as difficult in reality as it seems in anticipation. Now work always looks big. But in nine cases out of ten, the ability is in the worker to conquer it, if he will use his ability. The test should be made at any rate. No one should back down before he begins. In most of us are more latent powers than we imagine. And when the call is made upon them, they come splendidly to our aid.

If openings come to you, in the new season at hand, for work that means more to you than you are now doing, do not grow faint-hearted when you look at it, or scared at the size of it; but tackle it and use every ounce of ability you have to master it. The probability is you'll win out. No matter how impossible success may seem, make the effort.

Facts About Flowers.

A German botanist figures out the number of species of flowers cultivated in Europe as 4,200, of which 420 possess an agreeable perfume. Flowers are most likely to be found in flowers having yellow or cream colored petals, then white, red, blue and violet in order.

Proud of Portuguese Origin.

A knowledge of Spanish, while necessary in all other parts of South America, is of no advantage in Brazil. Its people are very proud of their Portuguese customs and language, and are apt to be unfavorably impressed by any one who does not pay due respect to the difference between their nation and those of Spanish origin.

STRIPED PILLOW.

Blue and white striped foldover has received the Paris stamp of approval, and is fetching with its rich, striped silk and sleeves of embroidered black net with hands and ruffled cuffs or plain blue and white folded, emphasizing a skirt which is quite new in design, and the apron like tunic, front and back and joined on the sides by heavy blue cords and tassels. The bodice, too, is quite new, with its rich, striped silk and sleeves of embroidered black net with hands and ruffled cuffs or plain blue and white folded, emphasizing a skirt which is quite new in design, and the apron like tunic, front and back and

The Woman Beautiful

By MME. QUI VIVE

There is only one way of reforming a wayward husband. That way is by gaining his respect. The usual method of nagging and weeping is a worthless and obsolete system. A clever woman with humor, intelligence, reason and good nature—don't smile, there are such women and they are not dead—can bring the most unruly husband into line. She does not harp forever on her own sufferings. If he dissipates, she very tactfully shows him how his waste of time ruins his own chances for good work and success. She realizes that if he goes out with the boys night after night, it may be because there isn't much at home to attract him. She becomes his good old pal, and if she keeps a strong heart and a steady head, the time comes when she can't drive him away from her.

Naturally a pretty woman is complex. She has no desire to make herself plain.

There are marriages of unequal intellects as there are marriages of different characters. But if one loves truly and deeply the plainest goose will always be a swan. The moment that we begin to criticize and to find fault, the rosy glow of love grows dim. Twilight descends on young Mr. Cupid and darkness is on the way. The keen-eyed wife makes her first great mistake when she begins to pick flaws and seeks mental blemishes. If a man's heart is properly located, if he is faithful, willing to tell for his family, and gives his wife all the tender little attentions that rightly belong to her, she can well afford to overlook the fact that he occasionally forgets to put his slippers away or that he does not handle his soup-spoon exactly to her fancy.

With some people the matrimonial climate is either a roast or a frost.

Most of the domestic unhappiness that mars the beauty of a delightful world is caused by individuals trying to make their relatives see life as they see it. A word to mothers: To make your boy think as you do is wrong. Times have changed, and what your mother taught you may not be proper teaching for him. Guide your boy with love and tenderness. When he makes mistakes don't scold him. Just say you're sorry, and isn't it fine that he will know what to avoid. And don't forget that you must progress as fast as he does—if you can—so you will understand. The right kind of a mother is always just the same age as her child. She is his good chum, and his jolliest, most inspiring friend.

Divorce courts prove that sometimes a little beauty is a dangerous thing.

Physical culture is not more muscular development, but equilibrium and grace. The habitual pose of the body is the first matter for critical attention. Plato maintained that those who were educated in mind and morals only and possessed untrained bodies were cripples. The best way to acquire pose and grace is to seek a good gymnasium. As the body becomes strong, the spirits will be happier.

Many a man's downfall is caused by a slip of a girl.

Truly, the world's got a move on. All the old ladies are now wearing high-heeled shoes. They say they are more comfortable, they give spring to the walk, and a general spryness that is pleasant. The same old ladies spent years vigorously applying the bedsheet of conventional rebuke to their ladies who turned up their toes and their noses at common-sense heels. This is a case in which she laughs best whose laugh lasts.

Be cheerful. Today will be yesterday tomorrow.

Those women to whom the turban culture is becoming can wear it and

NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE

A Scientific Achievement

The discovery and turning in an alarm of the makes possible the heroic work of the firemen in putting it out. Undiscovered, a fire spreads with amazing rapidity, destroying everything within reach.

The discovery of the dandruff germ was of incalculable value to mankind, but only because it paved the way for the greater service, the discovery of Newbro's Herpicide.

Dandruff is contagious, and its spread is checked by the use of Herpicide. This delightful scalp dressing kills the germ, and prevents the hair from falling. It stops that itching almost instantly.

Herpicide is the one standard and original dandruff germ destroyer. Any other preparation making this claim is an imitation.

Recommended and applied by first-class barbers.

feel that they are in the style parade. But the straight flat lines are trying to some faces, and for those women to whom it is not becoming, the hair shops furnish little ringlets and puffs which can be pinned on top, at the back of the head or at the sides, according to the need. The all-around braid will remain for some time; it is easily arranged, and a neat way of arranging one's topknot.

Women make their visits long because they haven't time to make them short.

We have observed that the romantic young lady who suffers from heart throbs and who would she might depart this life, is an entirely different individual when she has the toothache. There's a lot of hopeless rubbish spoken by sentimental folk, and it sounds serious only to them. To the big ear of a listening world, it is a tickle and a laugh. The one who expresses despondency and a general disgust for life is usually very young. Youth loves to appear embittered, but wise middle-aged mellow and smiles; therefore let us grow up.

Folly chatters, but good sense holds her tongue.

The dullest woman or the plainest one need not be without hope of improvement. If she will but open her eyes to culture, if she will listen and learn, she can cultivate charm and beauty. It may be a slow, long journey, but she will get there, if she is patient and persevering. Keep in mind the fact that the source of beauty is the brain and the soul.

An appearance of ignorance is sometimes wisdom's mask.

The woman who is carrying on a double love affair is banking up misery for herself. The good chances are that her deception will be disclosed and she will be jilted by both adorers. It is the most natural thing in the world for a woman to have a bit of coquetry in her make-up, but flirtations are a different matter. They are demoralizing and wholly unprofitable, and leave a horrid memory.

Just because the eggs are fresh is no sign the chickens are going to be "sassy."

It is not unfortunate that so many women have become self-supporting. Independence is a very sweet morsel and it is not surprising that women have sought it. Fifty years ago nearly every household had one or several dependent women who toiled about the house, lived weary lives, were a burden to the master of the home, and felt the keen misery of charity.

IN VOGUE

Mesh bags continue popular.

Large muffs are predicted.

Soutache is not much seen in full fashions.

The empire gown is coming back with a rush.

More buttons appear, but they are generally small.

October brides will carry muffs as well as flowers.

Black velvet bags, belts, and pumps are used together.

Dog collars of pot, one, two, or three strands, are in favor.

Plain colored silks are much used for simple tailored blouses.

Fine line striped fabrics will be popular for tailored suits this fall.

White crepe collar and cuffs are being much used for deepest mourning.

Fashionable lockets are almost large enough to serve as "vanity boxes."

PHYSICIAN ADVISES CUTICURA REMEDIES

For Eczema, Patient's Wrist and Skin Itched Like Poison. Scratched Until They Bled, Says: "Cuticura Soap and Ointment Cured Me."
"Four years ago I had places break out on my wrist and on my skin which would itch and burn by night and scratch during the day. When the trouble first began, my wrist and skin itched like poison. I would scratch and scratch until they bled. Afterward the places would scab over, and the scabs would fall off, and the itching would begin again. I tried everything I could get my hands on, but nothing would cure me. I was told to try Cuticura Soap and Ointment which certainly cured me. I always use the Cuticura Soap for toilet, and I hope other sufferers from skin diseases will use the Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I feel that I can't say enough for it. It cured me. I feel that I can't say enough for it. It cured me. I feel that I can't say enough for it. It cured me."

Milton, Sept. 5.—Hon. P. M. Green has given to the Seven Day Baptist church, as a memorial to his late wife, Abbie McHenry Green, a $3,500 pipe organ. The instrument, which was built by a Milwaukee firm, has arrived, and will be installed at once by the builders. The members of the church have long desired an organ and the generosity of Mr. Green in providing it is highly appreciated.

PHYSICIAN ADVISES CUTICURA REMEDIES

For Eczema, Patient's Wrist and Skin Itched Like Poison. Scratched Until They Bled, Says: "Cuticura Soap and Ointment Cured Me."
"Four years ago I had places break out on my wrist and on my skin which would itch and burn by night and scratch during the day. When the trouble first began, my wrist and skin itched like poison. I would scratch and scratch until they bled. Afterward the places would scab over, and the scabs would fall off, and the itching would begin again. I tried everything I could get my hands on, but nothing would cure me. I was told to try Cuticura Soap and Ointment which certainly cured me. I always use the Cuticura Soap for toilet, and I hope other sufferers from skin diseases will use the Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I feel that I can't say enough for it. It cured me. I feel that I can't say enough for it. It cured me. I feel that I can't say enough for it. It cured me."

LAKOTAS HOSTS TO BELOIT YOUNG MEN

Arlato Club of Beloit, Entertained by Local Club Yesterday At Outing Up River Followed by Banquet and Smoker.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Twenty-five members of the Arlato club were entertained yesterday afternoon and last evening by the members of the Lakotas club of this city. The Beloit guests arrived on the two o'clock car from the suburban. An up-river trip was taken on the boat to Crystal Springs and two nines, representing the two clubs engaged in a baseball game, the visiting team being victorious by a score of three to two. The Janesville club members, however, won out in the tug of war.

Other sports were indulged in and a five mile trip up the river was enjoyed. The party returned to this city about seven o'clock and a banquet was served at Ely's restaurant. The rest of the evening was spent at the Lakotas club rooms with a smoker and social session.

Artificial Graphite.
All forms of carbon, according to Prof. J. A. Fleming, are converted into graphite if the temperature is high enough. He illustrates this by the fact that the tip of an electric arc carbon will mark paper after it has been used in a lamp, but not before. Referring to the turning of anthracite coal into graphite with the Achene electric furnace, Professor Fleming remarks that at Niagara graphite is thus manufactured to the amount of 2,000 tons annually. This becomes a matter of much importance in view of the gradual exhaustion of the known deposits of natural plumbago.—Youth's Companion.

Captain Kidd is Wronged.
Captain Kidd of pirate fame was an honest-hearted, conscientious elderly man and the victim of "wild misrepresentation" according to Sir Cornelius Seal Dalton, who sets forth his views in his new book, "The Real Captain Kidd; a Vindication." "A typical sea captain of his day," writes Dalton "he was induced against his better judgment to embark on an impossible enterprise, which, after the manner of his kind, he doggedly tried to carry through. For his pains he was ignominiously hung in chains and has ever since been held up to execration as an arch pirate."

DOINGS OF THE VAN LOONS—They started something at Father's office while he was away.

NO MAN'S LAND A ROMANCE

By LOUIS JOSEPH VANCE
ILLUSTRATIONS BY RAY WATERS
COPYRIGHT, 1910 BY LOUIS JOSEPH VANCE

Half-blinded and choking, he stopped back, groping for his handkerchief. The alcohol burned his eyes like liquid fire, and the fumes of it in his throat and nostrils almost strangled him for a moment, preventing his clear understanding of what was taking place. Dimly he heard Van Tuyl raving in his curiously clear and incisive accents, heard him stigmatize Blackstock card-sharp and blackguard. More vaguely he heard him name Katherine Thaxter—in what connection he did not know. On the heels of that something barked hideously; Dundas screamed like a rat; Van Tuyl said: Oh, God! thickly.

Dashed with horror, Coast managed to clear his vision.

Blackstock had moved to the other side of the room, where he stood at a small table, the drawer of which he had evidently jerked open the instant before he fired. His feet were well apart and he leaned a little forward, his large head lowered upon his heavy neck. His lips were compressed to the loss of their sensual fullness, his eyes blazed beneath knotted, intent brows. One hand was clenched by his side; the other held an automatic pistol from whose muzzle a faint vapor lifted in the still hot air.

In a corner little Dundas was huddled with a face of parchment, mouth gaping, eyes staring.

Both men were watching Van Tuyl. Coast saw the tall, graceful figure away like a pendulum gathering momentum. An expression of strained surprise clouded the man's face. He lurched a step forward and caught himself with a hand on the card-table, and so held steady on an instant while his blank gaze, falling, comprehended the neat black puncture with its widening stain upon the bosom of his shirt.

"God . . ." he said again in a voice of pitiful inquiry.

Then he fell, dragging the table over with him.

On the sound of that, Blackstock moved for the first time. He drew himself up, relaxed, and dropped the weapon upon the table beside him. His glance encountered Coast's, wavered and turned away. He moistened his lips nervously.

Coast, with a little cry, dropped to his knees beside Van Tuyl. Already the man's eyes were glazing, the movements of the hand that tore at his breast were becoming feebly convulsive. While Coast watched he shuddered and died.

"Well!" Blackstock's voice boomed in his ears as the man's hand gripped his shoulder. Coast shook off the grasp and rose.

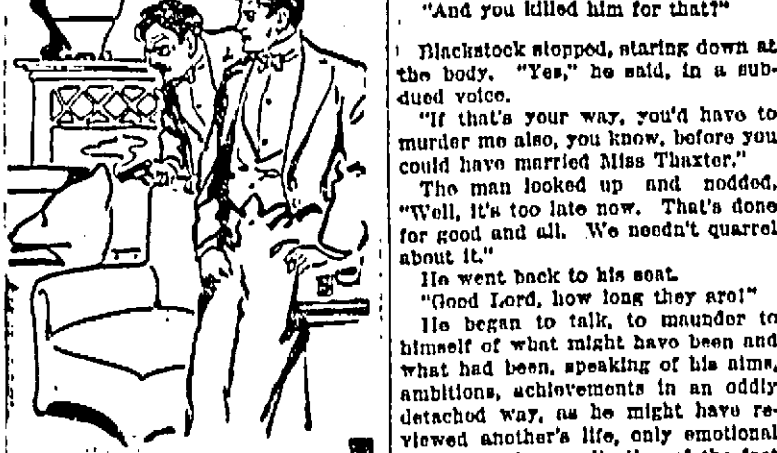

"You've done for him," he said, wondering at the steadiness of his own voice.

Blackstock shook his head, blinking like a man waking from evil dreams.

"Why . . ." he said huskily.

He turned away as if to lose sight of the figure huddled at his feet.

Dundas in his corner whimpered. Blackstock swung to him with an oath. "Shut up, damn you! Do you want—?" He clicked his strong white teeth, jumping as the bell of the house telephone interrupted. Then notoriously, repeated over and over with the same falling inflection. Coast detected not a word, not even a note of regret for his crime, save insofar as it affected Blackstock's fortunes—blasted them.

Blackstock Moved for the First Time. He went, hesitating, to the instrument in the short hallway that led to the entrance to the apartment. Coast heard him jerk down the receiver.

A shrill clamor of the telephone bell electrified them all. Dundas cried out. Blackstock jumped up and stumbled into the hall. Coast, rising, heard his voice.

"Yes. Tell them to come up."

He returned, almost reeling. "Here, Dundas," he said, slowly, "you let 'em in, will you, like a good fellow."

Mute in his panic, Dundas went to the door.

Coast could hear the wailing of the ascending elevator, the clanking of its safety chains.

Abruptly he was conscious that Blackstock's temper had undergone a change. From passive surrender to his fate the man had passed to a mood of active resistance. Somehow instinctively, Coast, seemed to divine this in the surcharged, tense atmosphere of that moment. He shot a swift, suspicious look at the man, and caught in return a look of low cunning and desperation.

He saw Blackstock in a pose of attention, listening, every sense alert, every muscle flexed—a man gathering himself together as a cat about to spring.

The elevator was very near the floor.

"By God!" Blackstock whispered, watching his lips; and again his eyes were blazing. "I'll fool 'em yet!"

The man turned swiftly. Outside the elevator gate clanged. Coast heard a confusion of footfalls and voices, a knocking on the door. And suddenly he understood what Blackstock intended. Already he had regained the side table and snatched up the pistol. He turned with it lifted. "They shan't have me!" he cried, and reversed it to his temple.

"You fool!" Coast screamed unconsciously. With almost incredible swiftness of action he flung himself upon Blackstock and seized the pistol, deflected it toward the ceiling. It exploded.

For a moment longer he was struggling frantically with Blackstock to save the man from self-destruction. Then, without warning, he was seized and dragged away, holding the pistol. A strange hand snatched that away. Other hands plied his arms to his sides. He fought for freedom for an instant, then ceased to resist, thunderstruck with amazement.

Blackstock towered over him, pointing him out. "That's your man—take him!" he cried. "He's done murder and was trying suicide. I managed to keep him quiet until he heard you coming, then he made a grab for the pistol. Thank God, you're in time!"

Something stuck in Coast's throat—his tongue trying to articulate in a mouth dry with fear and consternation. "You liar!" he managed to say. "You—"

"Shut up, you!" One of the policemen holding him clapped a hand over his mouth.

"Why," he heard Blackstock say, "you saw him yourself, gentlemen. If there's any question in your minds, here's Mr. Dundas, who saw it all. Dundas, who shot Van Tuyl? Mr. Coast, here!"

Dimly as through a haze Coast saw Dundas emerge from the press of men in the room, a ghost of a man, eyelids quivering, limbs shaking, features working in his small, pasty face. And in his anguish of anger, fear and resentment, Coast detected the look, unobserved by any other, of secret understanding that passed between the two men.

"Yes," Dundas said, his voice tremulous. "Why—why, of course, Mr. Coast did it."

Coast felt the chill of handcuffs on his wrist—a chill that ate into his soul.

CHAPTER III.

Warburton had forgotten nothing. Coast walked out of Sing Sing to enter his own car, his departure so contrived and timed that he was conscious of neither.

FOLEY'S KIDNEY REMEDY (Liquid) is a great medicine of proven value for both acute and chronic kidney and bladder ailments and for annoying urinary irregularities. It is especially recommended to elderly people for its wonderful tonic and reconstructive qualities, and the permanent relief and comfort it gives them. L. McConnell, 117 Catherine St., Elmira, N. Y., says: "Five bottles did the work for me most effectively and beyond doubt Foley's Kidney Remedy is the most reliable kidney medicine ever made." Badger Drug Co.

Learn Naturally to Swim.

The school children of Germany are taught to swim without the use of water. It is claimed that the proper stroke and motions of the arms and legs are more readily acquired in this manner than in the water, as it is the more general way of teaching swimming. The student is suspended by a wide belt from an overhead rail, while the feet are attached to a pair of ropes running over pulleys and adjustable to various requirements. The pupils thus suspended are then taught how to perform the movements of the breast stroke until the action becomes almost instinctive. The advantage in teaching these movements in such a way is that the pupil is not distracted by the fear of a ducking.

Soldier's Brave Deed.

Asked what was the bravest deed he had ever seen, Lord Roberts said he remembered that while he was on his way to Lucknow his force was assailed by a mailed inclosure. A little soldier, a Punjabi Mohammedan, seeing the difficulty, endeavored to open the door which barred their way. When he tried first to draw the bolt one of his hands was cut off by one of the enemy; then he managed to unfasten the bolt with his other hand, which was subsequently nearly severed from the wrist.

Ancient Menu.

"Without meat there is no pleasure" is a very old saying. Maimonides talked of dishes good for the health. He recommended bread baked from fine wheat that is not too new, not too old, nor ground too fine.

The Cause.

"Mrs. Comeup, your daughter has a cryptic way of talking."

"I guess that was because she was tongue-tied when she was little."

Real Cold Storage Fish.

William Nissen, owner of the Commonwealth Ice company of 123 Chicago Turnpike, West Brighton, Elston 18 land, had German carp for breakfast the other day. His foreman, George Galloway, found the fish in a 200 pound cake of ice which he was taking out of the icehouse for a customer. The ice was cut on Nissen's lake last December. The lake is full of Gormaz carp, the foreman got to the right cake of ice and it came out fine. The carp looked as if it had been frozen in for an advertisement for a fish market.

Cultivate Repose.

There is a lot of truth in the expression: "Power through repose" and a book written concerning it. When your nerves are relaxed and your mind at ease you have infinitely more grasp on the situation.

Going Through Life.

Some men fight their way through life. Others expect to be pushed through.

A Great Advantage to Working Men.

J. A. Maple, 123 S. 7th St., St. Louis, Mo., says: "For years I suffered from weak kidneys and a nervous bladder trouble. I learned of Foley's Kidney Pills and their wonderful cure and I began taking them and sure enough I had my good results as my bladder about. My backache left me and to one of my greatest advantages. My kidneys acted free and normal, and that saved me a lot of misery. It is now a pleasure to work where it used to be a misery. Foley's Kidney Pills have cured me and have my highest praise." A Real Friend.

Honest men esteem and value nothing so much in this world as a real friend. Such a one is as it were another self, to whom we impart our most secret thoughts, who partakes of our joys, and comforts us in our affliction; add to this, that his company is an everlasting pleasure to us. —Millyay.

You Will Be Proud of the appearance of your stove

IF YOU USE Black Silk Stove Polish

It makes old stoves look like new and lasts four times as long as any other shine. Don't imagine all brands of stove polish are alike. Black Silk is different. It's so much better than other stove polishes that there is absolutely no comparison. It's in a class all by itself.

It makes a brilliant, glossy shine that anneals to the iron—don't scrub or dust off. Give it a trial. Try it on your parlor stove—your cook stove or your range. If you do not find it the best stove polish you ever used, your dealer is authorized to refund your money.

Here is what some of the ladies write us: "I like Black Silk Stove Polish better than any I have ever used. People say, 'where did you get your new stove,' and I tell them it's Black Silk Stove Polish that makes it look like new."

"I will not use any other kind when I can get Black Silk Stove Polish. It makes shining stoves—very nice longer than any other polish."

"Black Silk Stove Polish is by far the best I ever saw. I have tried many different kinds but find none as good."

"I like Black Silk Stove Polish better than any I have ever used. Several parties in this neighborhood are anxious to get some of your polish since they saw my stove after using it."

Ask your hardware and stove dealer for Black Silk Stove Polish and refuse a counterfeit brand. Costs you no more than the ordinary kind so why not have the best?
